

ANGLO-SWEDISH SOCIETY

Anglo Swedish Newsletter May 2018

Theatre in English – Friday 25 May 19.00

performed by Craic! Theatre production at Teaterhuset, Mölndal.

John Steinbeck wrote The Moon is Down in 1942, at the zenith of WWII. He believed that people, essentially, are the same everywhere and that the themes of oppression and resistance are perennial. The play explores the psychological effects of occupation on both the people and their conquerors. The story is testament to Steinbeck's belief in the importance of each individual: the idea on which democracy is founded. Free people cannot be conquered for long and democracy, like the moon, would only temporarily be down.

After the play we will have a cheese&wine meeting with the cast and crew.

Cost only 100:- per person for members and 130:- for non members.

You can of course join the society on site in order to get the discount!

Write to: events@angloswedish.se if you are interested in joining us. Or call Birger at 031 992558

Saturday 26 May at 11 a.m. St Andrew,s Church Bazaar.

_This year in addition to the various stalls and food sales there will be music in the Church from the African Choir as well as organist Stephen Craige and Classical Guitarist Vanja Prosavic from Croatia.

Saturday 7 July at 12.00 -15.00 Villa Belpark in Slottsskogen

Get together in the Park with the British Club. Bring your friends and family to the bistro and enjoy a pleasant afternoon in good company! There will be a treasure hunt for all the family.

www.angloswedish.se for latest news, contacts, useful links, etc..

plusgiro 24 27 00-3 Anglo Swedish Society for membership fee (150:- per family)