Theatre in English Wednesday 14 November. Voices

First-hand accounts of the asylum system and seeking refuge in a Europe closing its doors, in the words of people who have experienced it. If your voice was heard, what would you say?

"The political system is treating the people as if they are numbers... it's funny here in the migration system. When they distribute the people on the rooms they distribute numbers not persons. They are talking about numbers."

Directed by Peter Jackson. A documentary about World War I with never-before-seen footage to commemorate the centennial of the end of the war.

Using the latest digital technology celebrated filmmaker Peter Jackson (The Hobbit, Lord of the Rings) has restored and colourised original archive film shot during the First World War to create an extraordinary new film telling stories of life on the front line.

THEY SHALL NOT GROW OLD is a feature length film crafted from Imperial War Museums' extensive archive, alongside BBC and IWM interviews with servicemen who fought in the conflict. Footage has been transformed through modern production techniques to present incredible and previously unseen detail – bringing history to life and creating a vital new connection for contemporary audiences.
